The day will feature two panel discussions as per the following details-

Module 1

Opportunities & Challenges – Financial Sectors

With the present economic climate being dynamic, where the time available for an organization to adapt itself to the changes is shrinking, it’s become imperative for organisations to strategise & be well prepared. This has further resulted in the rise of nagging issues like the regulation of hedge fund industry, additional issue of licenses for commercial banking, etc.

On account of this dynamism the basic rules & notions regarding the financial sector are being are being re-written. One of the ways to synergise this dynamism is by engaging in panel discussions with industry veterans & this what MUDRANK, 2012 wishes to achieve.
